Railroad Franchises Discussed

All members present, Chairman Watson having returned from his vacation.

A communication was received from W. F. Richardson and others reporting experience with the Consolidated Water Company, asking advice of the city, the water company having refused so far to give party credit on water bill for excess charges.

An extension of sixty days for improvement work on Sixth street was asked by Contractor Peter L. Ferry, and granted.

A written proposition for road roller at $3,150 was read from Austin West Company, Limited, Los Angeles. On motion of Mr. Coker, seconded by Mr. Lane, the proposition was accepted.

A communication was received from the postmaster of Los Angeles calling attention to the fact that there are a number of street corners in Glendale not provided with street signs. Referred to street superintendent with instructions to place the posts.

Tax Collector reported the sum of $2,359.22 collected during last week.

Application received requesting permission to improve street (sidewalk) on Broadway near Franklin Court, from John Henderson. Granted.

Similar application from Edwards & Wilsey for improvement on Pacific Avenue (curb, sidewalk and street grade) was granted. Similar request from Cole & Damerell for improvement of Broadway near Central. Same action.

The city engineer recommended that the contract for improvement of Louise street be awarded to Peter L. Ferry, whose bid for the work is the lowest by $20.00, and a resolution to that effect was adopted.

Owners of property on Riverdale Drive petitioned to have that street improved from Central avenue to San Fernando road; referred to the city engineer. Trustee Coker brought up the question of protecting by concrete posts the rounding portion of curbs at street corners. The matter was referred to the city engineer.

Chairman Watson made a verbal report on the action taken in regard to petition to compel P. E. Co. to lower tracks on Brand boulevard. The matter had been taken up with the railroad company and next Monday evening a representative of the company will be present at the trustees' meeting. Mr. Watson invited all Brand boulevard property owners to be present at next week's meeting and have the matter discussed.

An ordinance setting aside Verdugo Road as a boulevard for the period of nine months, was read third time and adopted. An ordinance providing for the issuing of bonds to the extent of $25,000 in accordance with result of recent election, was read third time and adopted. Mr. G. B. Hoffman, city treasurer, appeared before the board and requested to be relieved of the necessity of signing his name to all bonds and coupons. He was authorized to use a fac-simile stamp of his signature upon the coupons.

A resolution was adopted appointing Ernest A. Lawrence, deputy city marshal at salary of $75 a month.

Mr. E. D. Goode appeared before the board and was interrogated by the trustees as to what constituted "Good Faith" as set forth in the franchise granted him on Broadway west from Glendale avenue; reference being to the fact that two rails had been laid on San Fernando road. Mr. Goode stated that he had done precisely what had been done by every railroad in California that had obtained similar franchise. He quoted the fact that the P. E. was able to hold a franchise for three years on the strength of two rails pointing east on Broadway at Brand boulevard. Did not know why he should be singled out as an example. Trustee Lane stated that he was anxious to see the road built but a number of people were asking about the matter, and it had been brought up at this time because of the proposed improvement of Vine street. Trustee Tower stated that he believed the objection of the people on Vine street is based on the fear that the street will be torn up after it is improved. It was finally laid over for a week, after Mr. Goode had stated that he expected to be able to go ahead with the work within six months.

The auditing committee was authorized to secure the auditing of the city books.

The street superintendent's salary was increased to $100 a month and it was further ordered that a motorcycle be provided for him.

AT THE HIGH SCHOOL

A Glimpse of Two Interesting Departments

There are now enrolled at the high school a grand total of 340 pupils. The erection of the frame building occupied by the manual arts department has made possible the utilizing for other purposes of the quarters taken up by this department last year, but the building is now filled to its capacity. Two things required for the first and second years are English and gymnasium work, leaving the student free to make choice of the following subjects that are on the "Recommended" list: Commercial arithmetic, algebra, Latin, Spanish, ancient history, general science, woodwork, spelling and penmanship, correspondence, commercial arithmetic, debate, drawing, music and sewing. The following shows the number of pupils taking the various courses: English, 295; mathematics, 210; Latin, 95; German, 36; Spanish, 95; science, 112; history, 126; debating, 22; woodworking, beginning 23, advanced 27; sewing, beginning 17, advanced 3; drawing, 95; music, 172; commercial, 142; gymnasium, 86.

Manual Arts.

Mr. Moore has charge of this department which has been equipped this year with about $1800 worth of machinery and appliances. There are four lathes, an electric grinder, band and circular saw, mortiser and joiner, all electrically connected. The first year's course in this department is hand work, the second, machine. The object of this course is to give pupils such a basic knowledge of actual mechanical work that they can obtain employment on the strength of it, and judging by the interest displayed and the specimens of work turned out, the course is intensely practical. The department is so well equipped now that it is constantly adding to its credit, work done by the pupils in the way of repairs and small fixtures about the school, for which otherwise a carpenter would be required. Mr. Moore expects this feature to develop to such an extent that the department will be self-supporting. Pupils work on jobs of their own, buying their material, a careful account of all expenditure of time and material being kept, charged up or credited to the individual pupils as well as to the department. Further details of this interesting and thoroughly practical department might be given to advantage, but space will not permit.

Domestic Science.

Here is another department in which the instruction is of a very practical nature. The cooking section is in charge of Miss Darsie. A tempting bakery smell greeted the reporter as he entered the room in which a dozen girls were occupied in the various details of cookery, under conditions similar to those found in a well-appointed kitchen. Leaving here the reporter went to the sewing department over which Miss Hallowell presides and found about twenty girls busily engaged in sewing, some by hand and others using the dozen or so machines with which the room is equipped. Miss Hallowell took commendable pride, as did the pupils in exhibiting the practical work of their hands; one was dressed in a suit made by herself and probably all of the others could have displayed some article made for themselves in the school. Many of them were employed at fancy work in preparation for the Christmas season, but the most of their time is devoted to plain work. Wednesday of last week there was a "Fashion Display" made by the pupils which was a remarkable demonstration of the accomplishments of the pupils in the way of adorning themselves, all being arrayed in garments of their own production, plain, sensible articles of apparel for everyday use. Most of the garments were of gingham and percale.

This is another department of the school deserving of extended notice which cannot now be given. Parents and others interested in the work should visit the school and make themselves familiar with the practical work being done in these departments. Both teachers and pupils are enthusiastically in earnest, possibly more so in these two than in any other departments of the school, a fact which in itself gives guarantee of success.

McPeak—Manwaring

At the home of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel McPeak, 1119 Arapahoe street, Los Angeles, Thursday evening, November 21st, at 8 o'clock, an interesting wedding took place when their daughter, Miss Jane Baxter McPeak, and Clarence Tryon Manwaring, of San Francisco, plighted their troth.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. Lewis J. Adams, in the presence of the family and a few intimate friends.

The bride was given away by her father and was becomingly gowned in ivory satin and duchess lace, and her veil was fastened with an orange blossom wreath. She carried an armful of white roses and lily of the valley. Her only attendant was Kathleen Campbell, her little niece, who assisted as flower girl. She wore a white lingerie frock over pink silk and carried a basket of Cecil Bruner roses.

Seymour Montgomery, of San Jose, served Mr. Manwaring as best man.

Mrs. Charles Stivers sang "O Perfect Love" and played the "Bridal Chorus" from Lohengrin.

In the parlors where the couple stood for the ceremony, asparagus ferns and pink carnations were used to decorate while the dining-room was beautiful with white carnations and ferns. The reception hall was bright with poinsettias and smilax.

Mr. Manwaring and his bride have gone east for their honeymoon. They will be home after February 1st at 2850 Union street, San Francisco.

Mrs. Manwaring is a sister of Mrs. Daniel Campbell and Mrs. Arthur Campbell of North Glendale.

Regular fifth Friday Parlor (or social) meeting, Friday, 2:30 p. m., Nov. 29th, at the home of Mrs. G. H. Morton, 103 West Second street. Bring work. We shall count our blessings with an evangelistic program.

We have need to rejoice as one more state went dry from votes Nov. 5th—West Virginia. Colorado lost out, the liquor element is too strongly opposed for they know that prohibition does prohibit. That was also the very reason why Wisconsin did not win woman's suffrage with the four states that did, namely, Oregon, Kansas, Michigan and Arizona. Our nation will be a saloonless one when woman's suffrage is granted in every state, and that will be in a very few more years. Mothers will not lose the chance to cast a blow (a vote) at the main evil that runs homes. Saloons and brothels take the bright boys and girls. South Dakota returned the tax money to the people in 1911; had no use for it, it is a saloonless state, with none of its products to feed and officials to pay.

Mrs. Hattie E. Gaylord, Pres.

A MUNICIPAL OFFICE THAT PAYS.

One branch of the city government that is paying its way and putting a surplus into the municipal treasury is that of the city recorder. During the present month the amount turned over to the treasury by Recorder Whomies will be about $100. Considerable of this is furnished by the fines paid in by the victims of Marshal Miller's vigilance. Last Sunday that officer had an unusually good day, bringing in three motor cycle riders and two automobile speed fends who could not resist the temptation to try their speed on the enticing stretches of Verdugo road. They were making about forty miles an hour when caught. The motor cycle victims were fined $10 apiece and the auto drivers $15 and $20 respectively.

Last month was almost as good as good, as the recorder turned in about $80. His fees are $3.00 a case.

The Remington Street Parent-Teacher Association held its regular meeting at the school house on Thursday afternoon last, Mrs. E. D. Goode presiding. The large number of mothers and friends present enjoyed a delightful program consisting of musical numbers, vocal solo by Miss Belle Hare, and piano selections artistically played by Mrs. Pinkerton. The pupils of Miss Loraine Mitchell's room sang two colored stereopticon slides.

December 15 "Men and the Church" will be the topic. Mattison B. Jones will be one of the speakers. December 22 Benjamin Scovill, the dramatic reader, will give Dickens' Christmas Carol.

The address last Sunday by Mrs. Gridley was greatly enjoyed and was a strong presentation of woman's enlarged opportunity.

The woman's auxiliary is planning to make Friday, December 1, an interesting day.

This church is located at Third street and Central avenue.

Sunday school meets at 10 o'clock; preaching service at 11:00 a. m. and 7:30 p. m.; morning topic, "The Mission of Mirth."

The address was by Mrs. Laird J. Stabler of Los Angeles, her subject, "Children's Rights," was delightfully presented.

The large number of mothers present at these meetings prove that they are doing the work for which they are intended, "to bring the home and school nearer together."

REALTY BOARD TO BE ORGANIZED.

A meeting of prominent real estate men was held Monday evening last for the purpose of organizing a realty board. Eight concerns were represented at the meeting. Mr. Ezra F. Parker was made temporary chairman and Harry W. Chase, temporary secretary. A committee consisting of E. H. Owen, H. M. Overton and J. H. Flower, was appointed to see whether a sufficient backing for the enterprise could be obtained and the meeting adjourned to meet Monday evening next at the office of Parker & Sternberg.

Tickets can be had at the door for such as have not secured them for the course. The program is rather more varied than at former concerts.

GLENDALE, CAL., NOVEMBER 29, 1912

Carnegie is going to pension ex-presidents. Now after Professor Wilson has been "on the job" for a while and begins to wish he was an ex instead of the real IT, will it be because he wants that pension or a rest?

Councilman Reed of Los Angeles advises the public utilities of that city to devote their attention to regulating public utilities instead of public morals, which is good advice for boards of public utilities everywhere.

In the hurry of making up last week we failed to give acknowledgment to Brother Miller of Eagle Rock Sentinel for the loan of cuts used in our Development Edition. For this and other courtesies from the same source we acknowledge our indebtedness.

A contemporary says: "Bryan nominated Wilson and helped elect him. Will he receive his reward?" That's nothing. Roosevelt elected Wilson, the latter should pay that debt first. The colonel ought to have the postmastership at Oyster Bay now.

The San Fernando Press comes to us in a new dress, enlarged to a six-column paper with the announcement of the installation of a new press. The Press under the management of Brother Shaffmaster has been making great progress in every way and we extend congratulations.

That champion denouncer, Governor Hiram Johnson, has turned his vitriolic weapons upon the Democrats of Los Angeles for daring to protest against the tactics of the "Progressives" in Los Angeles in their vote counting methods—all of which is creditable to the Democracy.

Subscribers and others who had occasion to find fault with the fact that the NEWS was slow in getting to them last week, are informed that our cylinder press slipped a cog at a critical time which taken with the extra labor of getting out our Development Edition, caused the delay. This week again Thanksgiving day interfered to some extent. But the NEWS has never failed to get at least a portion of its edition into the mails on Friday.

Contributions amounting to $668,869 are acknowledged by the National Progressive committee to have been received to secure the election of Roosevelt, and of this sum $641,780 was spent. George W. Perkins contributed $130,000 and Frank Munsey $101,000. This does not seem to indicate that "poverty" which the ex-president sets forth in the "Outlook" was one of the causes of his defeat.

The action of the Socialists of Europe in opposing the war sentiment, particularly in Germany, deserves commendation and moral assistance from all the people of the civilized world. The manifesto adopted by the International Congress at Basle, declaring that it is the urgent duty of the Socialists to carry on a strong campaign for universal peace, is said to have produced a strong effect on Germany's "War Lord," the emperor.

The editor of the NEWS acknowledges the receipt of an invitation to be present at the dedication of the new Times building in Los Angeles Dec. 4th. It gives us pleasure to congratulate the great newspaper that has been built up by Gen. Harrison Gray Otis upon the completion of its new home, erected on the ruins of the one destroyed by one of the greatest crimes of our time, and to further felicitate the veteran editor upon the same and upon the great work he has done in assisting in the building up of the Queen City of the Southwest.

Mr. J. H. Braly of Los Angeles, full of enthusiasm and the goodly cheer of the Quaker City, has been telling the people of Philadelphia that in the contest over the question of equal suffrage in California the opposition came from the criminal class. Considering the fact that the amendment carried by only a few hundred votes the percentage of the criminal element in this state must be very large—almost a majority—according to Braly!

SENATOR ROOT AND ARBITRATION.

Speaking a few nights ago at a New York chamber of commerce celebration, Elihu Root, secretary of state under Roosevelt and one of the few really great men in political life in the United States, is quoted as saying that the greatest danger confronting the nation is that great masses of people are out of touch with and persist in misunderstanding other great masses. He made a stirring appeal for arbitration with England over the question of Panama canal rates, closing as follows: "I say to you that if we refuse to arbitrate this matter we will be in the position of a merchant who is known to all the world to be false to his promises."

In the event of a great old world conflict which now seems possible in a very short time and into which there is even a possibility of this country being drawn, the wisdom and patriotism of President Taft in negotiating arbitration treaties with England and France which would have gone far towards making war impossible between the United States and those countries, will possibly be appreciated. No nation that is sincerely in favor of peace can consistently refuse to submit to arbitration its differences with other nations and in refusing to sanction the treaties alluded to, the senate took upon itself a heavy responsibility. That the opposition to them was led by an ex-president, will not add any luster to his name when impartial history is written.

THE PROPOSED GLENDALE CHARTER.

The charter committee appointed to frame an organic law for the city of Glendale, has been hard at work for several weeks upon the proposition and has made good progress until recently. It is understood that there is a division now over the question of the basis of representation, one portion of the committee favoring the division into wards about on the lines of the present four precincts, the other standing out for election of the mayor and four trustees by a vote of the whole city, the candidates to be selected at large. Glendale is not seriously in need of a charter; the city has done very well under the present general laws controlling cities of the sixth class. If the new charter is to be adopted, it must offer to the people something in the way of an improvement upon present conditions. In the opinion of a great many people, one important change that might be brought about in the way of an improvement in the chances of getting a representative body of men to manage the city business, would be the establishment legally of representation on a ward basis. It has developed lately, however, that there is a strong opposition to this method of selecting trustees. The justice and wisdom of selecting representatives on the governing body from different portions of the city is generally acknowledged and has been to some extent the practice heretofore, and that being the case there would seem to be no logical objection to making that rule mandatory. The idea that better representatives would be secured by paying no attention to geographical lines, is not well founded, unless it is assumed that among a population of say 1500 people such as would be found in any ward of the city, it would be impossible to find a fit and available candidate. The success of democratic government expressed in that much-abused term, "Rule of the people," is only possible when the unit of representation is small, otherwise it becomes a farce.

It is hoped that the charter being framed will justify itself, otherwise the labor of a number of our citizens in framing it and the attendant expense of publishing and holding an election, will be in vain.

CLIMATE.

Some one has said of London that it has no climate, only a large and varied assortment of weather. And then there are other places of which it may be written that the less that is said about it the better. But California climate will bear investigation, analysis, classification. It is not an evanescent thing, here today and gone tomorrow, but it stays long enough to demand recognition as a substantial thing, almost we had written, that it stands still long enough to be photographed, but that might be considered as hyperbole by the hypercritical, so we won't insist on that. But it is a real substantial asset, not by any means to be sneezed at. It is valued and valuable because it is different from that which prevails in so many other places; it gains merit by contrast. Perfect? Why of course not. It is enough that it suggest perfection. And yet, upon reflection, we do not recall its imperfections and have no suggestion to make for its improvement. It is all right, it is of the earth earthy, and that rather endears it to us, for so are we ourselves. It is blessed of the sunshine and the air, it is land of the mountain and the sea, and the plain over which it sweeps when its wrath is aroused or the valley that it kisses in all the seasons, the foothills, the forests and the orchards and fields of its bloom and fruitage are the children of its begetting, this climate of California!

SEASONABLE SUGGESTIONS.

(Communicated.)

Editor GLENDALE NEWS.

The festival season is on, and Sunday school organizations are getting busy in efforts to provide some entertainment for children and youth suitable and appropriate. This is not always an easy task, and often miscarries by the selection of programs more worldly than wise. Mere amusement and fun are not high ranges of thought for mere worldly people. And assuredly religious people ought to aim higher. Amusement can be combined with moral and educational forces elevating and uplifting along lines of the higher life. Without outlining at length what to do, let me suggest what not to do by presenting a series of resolutions once unanimously adopted by a district Sunday school convention to which I was a delegate.

Resolved, That all such magazines and periodicals as constantly parade glaring advertisements of intoxicating liquors and beers, often accompanied by seductive and demoralizing pictures, scantly draped, and not unfrequently displaying in mockery of its real meaning, the American flag, should be banished from parlor tables in Christian homes, and their places filled by such publications as respect the purity of home life, by offering no insult to the principles of prohibition.

Resolved, That great care should be taken by the proper departments in preparing programs for the entertainment season, to the end that folly and worldliness be not brought unduly to the front at the expense of substantial Christian education.

Resolved, That all games of chance are but incipient forms of gambling and an empty treasury should forever remain so rather than to seek reprieve at the expense of honesty and morals under the plea that "The end justifies the method."

Resolved, That, as believers in the world's Redeemer, whom we desire to love supremely, and acceptably serve, we banish from our Christmas entertainments in church, league and Sunday school, the heathen myth "Santa Claus," and give the blessed Christ the right of way to an intelligent Christian celebration of his birthday among and by His own people.

JUST TALK

"How we do move," remarked my old friend, the carpenter, the other day. "When I was a youngster they weren't so awfully afraid of our over-exerting ourselves as they are now. There's a girl next door who lives six blocks from the high school. Does she walk it? Not much, bless her little heart, she pays a nickel in the morning and another at night and Uncle Henry's electric cars carry her back and forth."

We used to be mighty glad if we got a chance to go to a circus once or twice a year, but the money spent by the average boy and girl nowadays for moving picture shows, would go a long ways towards paying for the family washing. We used to carry a cold lunch to school to eat at noon and we didn't have the dyspepsia either, but now-a-days the dear little kiddies must have something warm to put in their little stomach, probably topped off by something cold in the shape of a cone filled with ice cream bought of the peddler at the school house door. And—talk about the high cost of living, why the poorest youngster in the schools whose father's wage is two dollars per, must have spending money daily.

Two or three old-timers met on Spring street in Los Angeles the other day and as their custom is, began to talk of the changes they had seen in some thirty years in this wonder city of the West. One of them had filled a high position in the government of the state, another had been one of the proprietors of the first fruit store established in the city and the third had filled various small positions of usefulness. The ex-fruit man said to the ex-official, "Why just about here where we are standing I had a chance to buy a lot for $750 that is now worth more than that much a front foot, what fortunes we could all have made had we been wise enough to foresee things as they are today." "Yes," said the other, "I can recall a dozen such chances that I turned down. We might have been millionaires all right, but I guess it's just as well as it is; we'd have lost something of the peace of mind that goes with more moderate possessions." "That's so," said the other, "we've done well enough as it is and the possession of millions wouldn't help us much." Then the talk drifted to the case of a young man who had inherited one of those fortunes that the rapid advance of real estate has made here, and it was the consensus of opinion that it would have been better for him to have had to work for a living. Both of these men have been measurably successful in life and it was pleasant and helpful to have them express their satisfaction with what they had accumulated rather than regret that they had not more. What a foolish thing is regret except for a wrong action, and the most foolish of all of the kinds of it is regret that one did not invest in land that has rapidly developed value. Better contentment with what one has, a "lucky" strike often turns out to be quite the reverse in the long run.

I notice that Lieut. Gov. Wallace ran behind his colleagues on the Roosevelt electoral ticket; a gentle rebuke for his pardoning proclivities. I think it was in 1884 when Cleveland was first elected president that the unpopular David A. Terry, the man who killed Senator Broderick in a duel, was one of the electors on the California Democratic state ticket. The discriminating democracy refused to a considerable extent to vote for him, but elected all of his colleagues, letting one Republican elector in. History is liable to be repeated in the present contest which is not yet settled by an official count and it is a possibility that the electoral vote of the state will be divided.

This commuter was one whose civic pride had not been atrophied by disuse. He was commenting on the words and actions of one of his neighbors who declared that he didn't patronize the home stores because he could buy so much cheaper in Los Angeles. "And then I told him," said my friend the commuter, "that this wasn't my experience. My wife is a pretty close buyer. We lived in Los Angeles six years and have been here about two and a half years; and know something about the purchasing end of the matter. We find that we can get things as good and fully as cheap at the local stores as we could in the larger city, and that our merchants are even more accommodating. If people would only take the trouble to investigate the buy-at-home proposition they would find they could save time, trouble and car fare by patronizing the local merchants." And he had something to say on the side about "knockers," but that is another story.

The movement being made in Casa Verduga section for annexation to Los Angeles is one that concerns Glendale quite intimately. Should it be successful this city will have on its outer edge a territory in which saloons may be established and be quite as effective in their work as if within the city limits of Glendale. If this occurs it will be a demonstration of the unwisdom of the prohibition forces in insisting on county wide legislation on the liquor question.

At a concert the other evening in Glendale, there was a perfect pest of flies. A simple poison for this troublesome and sometimes dangerous insect, is said to be a pan of milk, sour or sweet, to which has been added a tea-spoonful of formaldehyde to every pint.

Los Angeles, Nov. 14.—Resembling a real city with main thoroughfares and "side streets," and at the same time reminding visitors of a mammoth department store, the big exhibit of culinary and household arts in this city is attracting the attention of rich and poor alike, through the efforts of the Southern California Cooks' Association to instruct the public how to reduce the cost of living.

Scores of exhibitors are giving demonstrations of their wares and distributing free samples to those who call, while competent lectures on domestic economy give illustrated talks on the intricacies of the culinary art and the science of marketing.

City officials and civic bodies are cooperating with the Cooks' association in the campaign of culinary education, and the project has the endorsement of City Health Officer Powers who has issued an open letter of approval. This is the second time in the history of the health department that such action has been taken.

Cook books, kitchen cutlery sets and fruit cakes are given free to patrons of the show and a model bungalow is to be given to some fortunate person the last night of the show, November 30th.

One of the features of the exhibition each evening is the signing of the Festival Choir of 300 voices under the baton of Thomas Taylor Drill of Land Show chorus fame.

RICHARDSON REDUCES COST OF SCHOOL BOOKS.

Sacramento, Nov. 12.—The state board of education has fixed the price on the new English lesson books upon the recommendation of State Printer Friend W. Richardson. Book One, according to the state printer, can be manufactured for 19 1/4 cents, and with royalty and postage added will sell to pupils for 35 cents, and Book Two can be manufactured for 22 cents and will sell to pupils for 40 cents.

The state board commended the mechanical work on the new English lesson book and pronounced it the best of any book that has been manufactured at the state printing office. It is solid and substantial, well printed and neatly bound in red cloth.

The two new books contain 736 pages and will be sold to the pupils for 75 cents. The two old books contained only 598 pages and were sold, under the Shannon administration for 90 cents. This shows a reduction accomplished by Richardson in the administration of the state printing office of over 50 per cent on these books. Richardson manufactured these books at the rate of 17 pages for each cent, while Shannon made only 11 pages for each cent.

When a feller gits goin' down hill," says Josh Billings, "it dus seem as tho' everything had bin greased for the oshashun."

There are merchants here and elsewhere who do never advertise and no doubt upon reflection we will find their course is wise. It's an awful lot of bother when you're sitting in a store to jump up and leave your knitting when someone comes in the door, for the object of our living in this land of pure delight, is to take life pretty easy and to keep well out of sight; which one can't do if he's harried by the ever jostling crowd, while the dusty stock that's carried can't be talked about aloud.

While the merchant sits a dozing, dreaming dreams he's dreamed before, comes some gazaboo proposing purchase of that stock in store; and the tired and troubled merchant just enjoys snooze and snore, drops his pleasant cud of fancy in the handy cuspidore. Do you wonder that the merchant, who enjoys the quiet life, keeps himself out from the mazes where the jingling coin is rife, where one dollar hits another in a never ending strife?

President-elect Wilson has gone to Bermuda where the onions come from. We may now expect daily details of the simple life from that interesting small corner of the world.

THE APPLE INDUSTRY AND OTHERS

The Rural Californian in an article on the apple industry on the coast, expresses the opinion that there need be no fear of overproduction, although it estimates that the states of Washington, Oregon, Utah and Idaho will ship this year a grand total of over 20,000 carloads. The writer makes a plea for the weeding out of a great many varieties of apples as "undesirables," recommending greater care in selecting those best adapted to the particular locality. The remarks of the writer upon the business of introducing new varieties apples not only to apple, but to other fruit trees as well. From the long list of varieties of apples, peaches, pears and some other kinds of fruit trees, there might be expunged permanently nine-tenths of these introduced in the last twenty years and the world would be none the worse off. The best varieties of apples today are the old reliable familiar to the youth of the generation now past the half century mark. The introduction of "new varieties" in nursery stock is one of the principal lines of profit open to the nursery man, and in furnishing these he is only catering to the popular demand for something new. "And this applies to the things than trees. The new varieties of roses introduced yearly constitutes a bewildering list, and yet it would be difficult to prove that the new ones are superior to the old in fragrance, beauty or continuance of the blooming period.

And, getting away from the seductive catalogue of new things to plant, is found that the new varieties of the dooryard hen of commerce, loosely known as "chicken," are being added to year by year by successful introducers of new things in feathers warranted to be something different—and therefore better—than the old reliable Plymouth Rocks and Leghorns!

RUSSIA DEMANDS LAYNE AND BOWLER PUMPS.

Just another instance of the superiority of American products and the vast foreign field that is open to our manufacturers is indicated by the recent shipment of well screen and pumps to Russia by the Layne and Bowler corporation of Los Angeles.

A representative from the European Oil Fields Corporation, Ltd., with headquarters in London and principal fields at Baku, Russia, recently visited

Los Angeles and placed orders with Layne and Bowler that will probably lead to three-quarters of a million dollars' worth of business. This would seem to be a fine testimonial for the Layne and Bowler people who have been established in Los Angeles for a number of years and are transacting an immense volume of business in pumps for both oil and water pumping.

They have just issued a big 62-page illustrated catalogue which is called No. 76 and will be sent upon request. It contains some valuable information for water users.

The "Juvenile shop" besides having a very attractive Christmas display has something new that is not only entertaining to the little folks but holds the attention of the grown up's as well. This is a beautifully decorated Christmas tree, the base of which is placed in a music box, and is continually turning round to the sweet music of old German times. This new attraction is pleasing, and draws a great deal of attention.

GLENDALE STABLES.

Yes, we observed Thanksgiving Day. So did a lot of our patrons, but we managed to accommodate them all. Don't overlook the fact that in looking over Glendale there's no better way to do it than by driving around the town in a Glendale Stable outfit. We can please you. 328 Glendale Ave.

THEY ALWAYS COME BACK.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Cassel, who have been farming in the Hood River valley in Oregon, found the call of Glendale too strong to resist, so they have returned to spend the winter.

They have rented a cottage in Casa Verdugo until they have time to build.

Mr. Cassel says he does not regret going to Oregon, as it was a pleasant outing for them and he considers his farm a good investment. He has not yet decided whether he will spend his summers on the farm or not.

Interment took place Thursday at Forest Lawn.

Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Cherry and wife arrived in Glendale a few days ago from their home in Ohio and expect to spend the winter here. Mr. Cherry is a brother of F. M. Cherry, the electrical supply man, and he and his wife are the house guests of Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Cherry.

TROPICO

Little Gladys Peckham, who underwent an operation at the Good Samaritan hospital in Los Angeles early this week, is slowly recovering and her present condition is encouraging.

A meeting of the missionary society of the Tropico Methodist church was held in the church parlors Tuesday evening. The affair was well attended and proved beneficial to those attending.

Miss Julia Goodsell, who for the past eight months has been enjoying an extended trip with friends and relatives in Wisconsin, has returned to her home on Palmer avenue at this place.

A meeting of the Brotherhood of the Tropico Presbyterian church will be held in the church parlors this (Friday) evening. A. M. McDermot will be the principal speaker of the evening. A not dinner will be served at 6:30 o'clock.

Charles H. Phillips of Los Angeles, general agent of the El Paso and Southwestern systems, has purchased the pretty residence on San Fernando road between El Portal and Glendale avenues, and will hereafter occupy the place with his wife and child.

The members of the Methodist church of this place had an enjoyable social at the home of Wilbur McWhorter on the San Fernando road last Friday evening. A pleasing feature of the affair was the auto ride from this place to the McWhorter home.

A hard time dancing party was given by the K. of P. lodge of this place in their hall last Thursday evening and the affair proved to be one of the most enjoyable events of the season. The next social evening to be held by the lodge will occur on Thursday evening, December 5th.

After passing a week with friends at Newhall, Miss Mable Hough has returned to her home on Central avenue. Miss Hough was the guest of honor at a pretty party this week, the affair being the twentieth anniversary of her birth. Other guests at this affair were Misses Dorothy and Katherine Hobbs and Miss Mary Evans-Hough.

For the purpose of raising funds with which to purchase a phonograph for the school the teachers of the Tropico school and the Parent-Teacher Association of the school gave a concert in the high school auditorium of Glendale Wednesday evening. The program was rendered by the pupils of the school assisted by Miss Anna St. John of Los Angeles, and Miss Helen Beatrice Cooper of this place.

A small but expensive blaze occurred at the Weston Studio at Tropico several days ago. A lamp was placed too near a large curtain filled with drying prints and a blaze resulted. The loss amounted to about a hundred dollars. Mr. Weston stated that had it not been for a liberty fire extinguisher, which was placed in the studio several days previous by A. L. Chandler, local agent, his entire studio would have been destroyed.

According to all reports Tropico will be able to boast of street lights about the middle of December. As a recent ruling of the supreme court is that for a commercial lighting service the party offering the service must have a franchise, it is probable that the matter of this company furnishing electricity to the residents of this place, for domestic purposes will be held up until the local board of trustees have advertised a franchise for sale for this purpose.

The young daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Reich, who moved from this place to Arizona several months ago, was drowned in an irrigation ditch on her father's ranch one day last week. The body was brought to this place where it was buried from the home of Mrs. Reich's mother, near the corner of Ninth street and Glendale avenue. Rev. Carnes, pastor of the Methodist church of this place, officiated at the service, and interment was made at Forest Lawn cemetery.

Mrs. D. O. Martin, who owns a business lot facing on both Central avenue and the San Fernando road just north of the Tropico bank building, has decided to erect a modern store building on her holdings in the near future. This structure will be entirely of brick and will conform with the other styles of architecture now composing the business section. The building will be two-story and will cost in the neighborhood of $9000. At the present time the architects are drawing plans for the building, at the conclusion of which the actual work of putting up the block will be commenced.

Much interest is being manifested in the Christmas Shop which will be given under the auspices of the Thursday Afternoon Club of this place. In Knights of Pythias hall on the afternoon and evening of December 14th. Mrs. Albert Collins, who will have complete charge of the affair, will be assisted by Mrs. Clarence Goode and Mrs. Joseph H. Webster. Other club ladies who will help in the affair are Mrs. W. C. Wattles, Mrs. E. M. Lynch, Mrs. Maryland Chapman, Mrs. E. W. Richardson, Mrs. Hal Davenport, Mrs. E. Peters, Mrs. Thomas Gaither, Mrs. Charles A. Barker, Mrs. Harry E. Bowman, Mrs. J. Herbert Smith, and Mrs. Andrew O. Conrad.

The Tropico Thursday Afternoon Club met at the home of Mrs. Charles A. Barker on Glendale avenue. The president of the club, Mrs. Dwight Griswold, was in charge of the day. Mrs. Barker read a paper on "Pure Food Legislation and What it Has Accomplished." Readings were given by Mrs. Emil F. Tholen on "Ice Cream, Pure and Impure," and by Mrs. A. O. Conrad on "Impurities of Candles." Mrs. Mary McLean's paper was on "Vacation Home at Venice for Working Girls," while Mrs. Wayland Chapman read a paper on "Law Enforcement." Mrs. Barker was assisted in entertaining during the afternoon by Mrs. Frank P. Ballentine and Mrs. A. O. Conrad.

The Knights of Pythias lodge of this place is thriving. Beginning with the first Monday night of next month a class of eight applicants will be installed into membership of this order. The initiation will occupy the first, second and third Monday evenings of the month. A Christmas tree will be held by the members of this lodge in their hall on San Fernando road a short time before Christmas, the date to be announced later. The purpose of this tree and entertainment is to give all the children of this section of the valley a good time. Besides being allowed to enjoy the tree the youngsters will be given candy, nuts and toys. The members of the lodge mean to be real Kris Kringle this year and they will have the support and good wishes of all Tropico in the undertaking.

The residents of this place feel satisfied with the water situation in this city as it now stands, at least for the present. Mr. Brand has complete charge of the system and it is claimed that the rate of $1.25 per 100 cubic feet minimum will prevail by the consent of both Mr. Brand and the local people. It is claimed that the company has 600 consumers at this time. This would make the revenue of the water company $750 per month, or $9,000 per year. Mr. Brand's estimate on the value of the Tropico Water company's property at this time is $50,000. Arthur Campbell has been put in complete charge of the company, while there will be a local employee in charge of meters and distributing appliances. Monthly bills payable to the company will be collected each month at the Bank of Tropico.

STRIKE RICH VEIN.

The Tropico Mining and Milling company has just made public the fact that it has just struck an exceedingly rich body of gold ore at Rosamond, seventy miles north of Tropico over the Southern Pacific railroad. It is claimed that there are several hundred tons of ore in sight at this time which is valued by experts at $650 a ton. Omar S. Richardson of this place is president of the mine and George C. Melrose, Tropico city recorder, is vice president, assistant manager and director of the company.

TO BOOST TROPICO.

Under the name of the Tropico Civic League a number of residents of this place have banded together with the purpose of boosting for this city and of securing some conveniences and rights that the people of this place are not now enjoying. The following officers have been elected to serve for the ensuing year: President, D. H. Johnson; vice president, W. E. Brown; secretary and treasurer, O. E. Clemens; directors, J. W. Ashton, J. T. Cawthorn, M. G. Coughlan, F. B. McKenney, C. T. Van Nettin. The club has a number of "bees" in its bonnet and will probably let this section hear from itself soon.

WITH THE TROPICO TRUSTEES.

City Clerk Street has advertised that bids for a franchise for the laying of gas pipes in the streets and alleys of this city will be received and opened at 7:30 o'clock on the evening of January 2, 1913.

An ordinance for the opening of Acacia avenue to Central has been read for the first time. Parties concerned were informed that they must pay into the city treasury the sum of $75 to cover the cost of advertising, etc.

The suit brought some time ago by the Consolidated Water company against the city of Tropico in regard to the regulation of the local water rates, has been dismissed on the ground that it is confiscatory and therefore unconstitutional.

Attorney Baker presented a claim against the city for $250 for services as attorney for defense of the city in the suit of the City vs. Consolidated Water company. The claim was paid.

Ordinance establishing grade of Boynton, Halstead, Mountain View and other streets, has been read for the third time and adopted.

An ordinance has been adopted ordering in streets work on San Fernando road and bids for the work will be called for at once.

A new home is being erected on Ivy street near Central ave. on the north side of the street. One on the opposite side is nearing completion, and the residence on Broadway west of Central, is almost finished. Several others are under way.

The Glendale Carpenters wish to acknowledge and express their appreciation for donations to the Homcraft Fair from the following merchants. It was through a mistake that their names did not appear on the list last week of those who had donated articles: Shilling's Dry Goods Store, Hendricks Dry Goods Store, Glendale Grocery, Russell Purity Bakery, Glendale Feed and Fuel Company, and MacArthur's Confectionery.

Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Russell of Fifth and Central avenue entertained friends Saturday evening with a musical, dancing and games. The house was beautifully decorated with ferns and red carnations. Punch and homemade ice cream and cake were served. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Duetweller, Mr. and Mrs. Ayers, Mr. and Mrs. Gaston, Mr. and Mrs. C. Hart, Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Sullivan, Miss Lulu Kolb, Miss Frances Kolb, Mr. George Gaston, Mr. W. Loberstein, Mr. John Gaston and Mr. S. C. Russell.

On Saturday last, shortly before noon, fire destroyed a small house in the San Fernando Road adjoining Wilkes Dairy. The contents, including wearing apparel, bedding, etc., were destroyed, together with about twenty-five dollars which was in a trunk. The occupants, a man and wife, employed by Mr. E. E. Wilke, were at work in the field when the fire broke out, and as there was no fire of any kind in the place, it is supposed that mice and matches did the damage. Mr. Wilke lost a few articles that were stored in the building, and the water tank on his place was burned. But for the promptness of two young men employed in the bottling department of the dairy—close to the burned building—the home of Mr. Wilke would have been badly damaged if not destroyed. These young men gave the alarm and also used water to good advantage. A number of others were promptly on hand and by quick work and perseverance quenched the fire before it reached the house. A couple of hives of bees were burned also. As the couple occupying the small building were left without anything kind neighbors quickly responded and brought clothing, bedding, money, etc., and their employed kindly furnished them sleeping quarters in his own home until further arrangements could be made. Mr. Wilke places his personal loss at about $250.

FORCE TO BE PRESENTED.

At Fliger's hall on a date to be announced later will be presented a laughable farce entitled "All a Mistake." The performance will be given under the auspices of the Fraternal Brotherhood. The playlet has been successfully given at Hollywood and other places and is said to be very comical. Mr. H. T. Lander manages the combination and takes the lead part, assisted by Miss Helen Birdebaugh, Mr. Strickland and Mr. Williams.
